

FULL DENTURES

Dentures Can Look Artificial or
They Can Look Simply Natural!

The digital design and 3-D printing processes involved in the production of Simply Natural Digital Dentures™ are at the leading edge of digital dentistry, resulting in smoother try-in and delivery appointments. For the first time, your doctor can send the lab a traditional or digital impression and receive dentures fabricated with precision using state-of-the-art technology.

Applying this technology to denture fabrication means that fine adjustments to the denture design are captured digitally, ensuring a more accurate fit for the final restoration. This precise production process supports a reduced number of appointments, saving both you and your doctor valuable time.

NEW!

Simply Natural
Digital
Dentures™

Ask your dentist how Simply Natural Digital
Dentures can improve your smile.

Simply Natural Digital Dentures™

Your dentist is among a select few who use the Simply Natural Digital Dentures system for more natural looking full dentures. They resist staining, are stronger, last longer, and fit more comfortably than typical dentures. Here are the easy steps required to make your Simply Natural Digital Dentures.

At your first appointment your dentist will ask you some specific questions about your present dentures, and how you want your new dentures to look. Impressions are taken and the models sent to the lab for fabrication of your esthetic guide.

During the second appointment, your doctor uses a unique, 3-D-printed esthetic guide to gather your personal smile characteristics. Your dentist positions it in your mouth, sets your bite, and readjusts the teeth if necessary. This helps guide the technician in creating your new smile. Special consideration is taken to ensure proper lip support and a pleasing smile line for your facial contour.

With the information provided, the design technician at the laboratory uses advanced software to fine-tune the denture's design and facilitate a precise fit.

At your third and final appointment, you will receive your new dentures. You'll find your new Simply Natural Digital Dentures to be the most lifelike and natural dentures you've ever had.